PREFACE

Bodrum Hotel Guide is a voluntarily yet comprehensive reference guide to 300 gazetted hotels in Bodrum, ranging from luxury hotels to boutique spaces, as well as budget accomodation. The guide contains key information including amenities, services and location of each hotel.

This year's edition also includes a comprehensive summary of the M.I.C.E. and SPA specifications in the annexes.

All information in this guide are provided by respective hotels, and accurate at time of publication. As a code of practice, this guide takes guidance and recommendations from governing authorities and credible platforms including but not limited to the Ministry of Tourism and Culture and goturkiye website.

This guide does not prport to include all necessary provisions of a contract. Users of this guide are responsible for their correct application.

The Official Bodrum Hotel Guide is now solely available digitally. It features full-page listings of hotel members, showcases Destination Management Companies and allied partners, and includes engaging articles. This guide also contains a broader directory of Bodrum hotels. Meant to be easily accessible and interactive, it represents the future of Bodrum travel.

We hope you have an enjoyable read.

HOTEL LANDSCAPE OVERVIEW

Bodrum is constantly ranked as one of Europe's premier tourist destinations. As such, it is no surprise that our city also offers a diverse range of hotels, from luxury affairs to chic boutique spaces, as well as no frills, budget establishments.

New hotels continue to open their doors in recent years, each with their own unique signature calling card targeted at different traveller segments.

In addition, some existing hotels underwent renovations to rejuvenate their spaces. Travellers can indeed be assured of diverse hospitality selections and offerings when travelling to Bodrum for businesses or leisure

WHO ARE WE?

The Bodrum Hoteliers Association (BODER) is a non-profit, non-government organization and Bodrum's oldest private sector tourism organization. Its membership is comprised primarily of accommodation providers, namely hotels, resorts, lodges, condominiums, educational facilities, and allied members, which includes tour operators and ancillary businesses that service the hospitality industry.

BODER works diligently to support the sustainable growth of member hotels and the tourism industry in Bodrum through global marketing initiatives, private and public sector partnerships, and training opportunities aimed at increased standards and professional service.

Above all, the Bodrum Hoteliers Association's mission is to promote and unify its members, placing the Bodrum's product at the forefront of the hospitality industry worldwide.

Property Types

In Turkey, star hotels are evaluated by the Ministry of Culture and Tourism using a rating system called the "Turkish Tourism Grading System". Overall the criteria for classification include more than 200 standards and are divided into seven categories: General Features, Building and Furnishings, Rooms, Food and Beverage Services, Service Quality, Hotel Management, and Environment and Sustainability.

BODRUM

"The Land Of Eternal Blue"

Bodrum: "the land of eternal blue", a stunning town both for its spectacular nature and variety of ruins with a history estimated to go back to the year 1000 BC.

The area has an efficient and inexpensive minibus network, making it easy to hop between Bodrum and the outlying coves, where, with some advance planning, you can find quality beach accommodation at still reasonable rates.

Although more than a million tourists flock to its beaches, boutique hotels, trendy restaurants and clubs each summer, the town of Bodrum (ancient Halicarnassus) never seems to lose its cool.

More than any other Turkish seaside getaway, it has an enigmatic elegance that pervades it, from the town's crowning castle and glittering marina to its flower-filled cafes and white-plastered backstreets.

Even in the most hectic days of high summer, you can still find little corners of serenity in the town..

The Bodrum Peninsula, named after the seaside resort town near its centre, offers a mix of exclusive resorts and laid-back coastal villages where you can enjoy good swimming and upmarket restaurants. Despite the glaringly visible inroads of modern tourism, tradition and tranquillity are partially preserved by local open-air vegetable markets and the rugged coastline, overlooked by scarcely populated hills in the peninsula's centre.

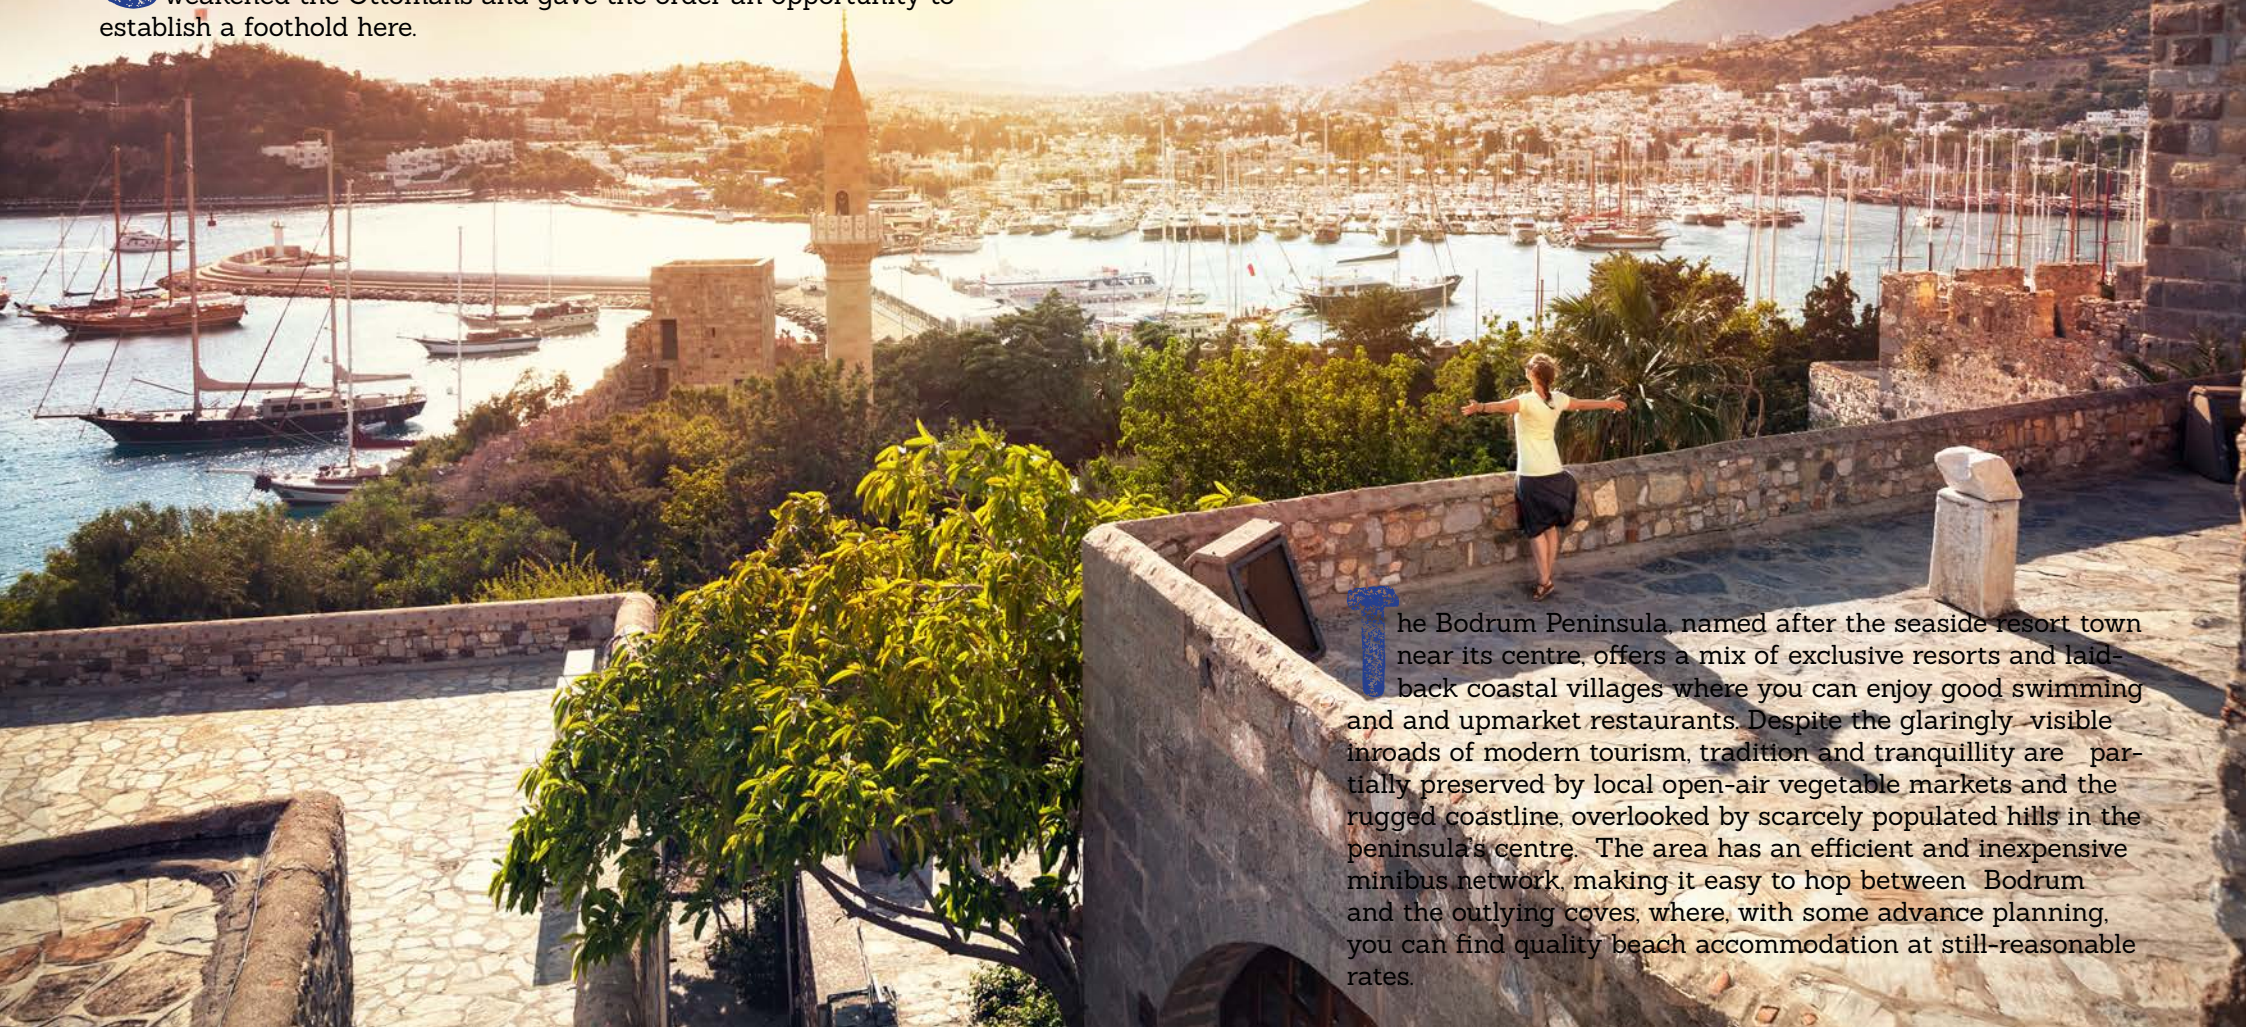

SEE BODRUM

Bodrum's magnificent waterfront castle, built by the Knights Hospitaller, dates back to the 15th century. It houses the excellent Museum of Underwater Archaeology, arguably the most important museum of its type in the world. However, at the time of research, the castle and museum were only partially open, with a lengthy €25 million restoration ongoing.

Based on Rhodes, the Knights Hospitaller built the castle during Tamerlane's Mongol invasion of Anatolia in 1402, which weakened the Ottomans and gave the order an opportunity to establish a foothold here.

They used marble and stones from Mausolus' famed Mausoleum, which had collapsed in an earthquake, and changed the city's name from Halicarnassus to Petronium, recalling St Peter. By 1437, they had finished building, although they added new defensive features (moats, walls, cisterns etc) right up until 1522, when Süleyman the Magnificent captured Rhodes. The Knights were forced to cede the castle, and the victorious Muslim sultan promptly turned the chapel into a mosque, complete with new minaret. For centuries, the castle was never tested, but French shelling in WWI toppled the minaret (re-erected in 1997).

MAUSOLEUM

One of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World, the Mausoleum (originally 44.8m high) was the greatest achievement of Carian King Mausolus (r 376–353 BC), who moved his capital from Mylasa to Halicarnassus. Today very little remains: pre-Mausolean stairways and tombs; the narrow entry to Mausolus' tomb chamber; original drainage systems; precinct wall bits; and some large fluted marble column drums.

Before his death, the king planned his own tomb, to be designed by Pytheos, the architect of Priene's Temple of Athena. When he died, his wife (and sister), Artemisia, oversaw the completion of the enormous, white-marble colonaded tomb topped by a 24-step pyramid and a quadriga, a four-horse chariot carrying Mausolus. In the late 15th century, the Knights Hospitaller found the mausoleum in ruins, perhaps destroyed by an earthquake, and between 1494 and 1522, almost all of it was reused as building blocks for the castle or burned for the lime content to strengthen the walls. Luckily, the more impressive ancient friezes were incorporated into the castle walls, while original statues of Mausolus and Artemisia ended up in the British Museum.

The site has relaxing gardens, with excavations to the west and a covered arcade to the east the latter contains a copy of the famous frieze now in the British Museum. Four original fragments displayed were discovered more recently. Models, drawings and documents indicate the grand dimensions of the original mausoleum. A scale model of Mausolus' Halicarnassus is also on display.

ANCIENT THEATRE

Ancient Halicarnassus' theatre was built in the hillside rock in the 4th century BC to seat 5000 spectators but that capacity was increased to 13,000 for gladiatorial contests in the 3rd century AD. It hosts concerts and other events in summer. It's on the main four-lane highway to Turgutreis.

MYNDOS GATE

These are the restored remains of the only surviving gate from what were originally 7km-long walls probably built by King Mausolus in the 4th century BC. In front of the twin-towered gate are the remains of a moat in which many of Alexander the Great's soldiers drowned in 334 BC.

Getting To Bodrum

Bodrum is easily accessible. Turkish Airways offers multiple flights daily from Istanbul to Bodrum and the new Istanbul International Airport (IST) is impressive and not a bad place to spend a few hours on a layover. There are tons of designer shops, restaurants, bars, and boutiques in the airport.

From Istanbul Airport it's a quick 1 hr 15 minute flight to Bodrum. You fly into Milas-Bodrum International Airport (BJV). From the airport, it's an easy 30 minute cab ride to Bodrum.

Best Time To Visit Bodrum

If you want to experience everything Bodrum has to offer including a lively beach club scene then summer is the best time to visit. June, July, and August are considered high season in Bodrum. This is when all the hotels, beach clubs, restaurants, and shops are open and in full swing.

But while summer is an ideal time to visit it can be pricey, hard to get reservations, and very hot, especially in July when average temperatures peak at 34,5°C and sea temperatures around Bodrum reaching 24,5°C.

If you want to avoid the crowds and score better prices on hotels I suggest visiting during shoulder season. May and September are both great months to visit Bodrum. Flights to Bodrum and hotel prices are much cheaper during these months, most places are open, and the weather is great.

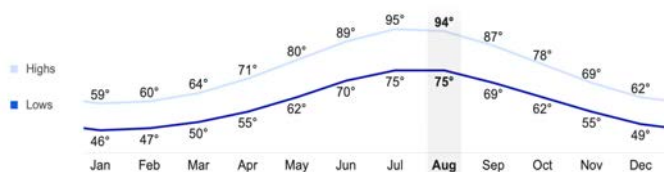

September, in particular, is an ideal month to visit. In May, the sea around Bodrum can be a bit chilly averaging around 18°C in the spring, but in September the sea is still warm with an average temperature of 22,5°C in the fall.

"If you come to the top of this hill, you will see Bodrum.
Do not think that you'll have as the person you arrived."
"The same happened to those before you."
"As they departed, they all left their minds behind in Bodrum."

Fisherman of Halicarnassus (Cevat Şakir Kabaağaçlı)

He is one of the latest representatives of the philosophers rising from Anatolia. He is a writer, historian and painter who nurtures the human perception of the past and the search for the future from a historical and mythological perspective and via using the metaphor of the sea.

"Ask the Fisherman to Halicarnassus and ask Halicarnassus to the Fisherman." Saying from Anatolia

Bodrum Ancient Theatre

The Ancient Theatre, located in Göktepe on the Bodrum-Turgutreis road, is one of the first theatres in Anatolia and the most important historical monuments from Halicarnassus to the present day. In ancient times, the theatre is thought to have a capacity of approximately 10,000 people.

Myndos Gate

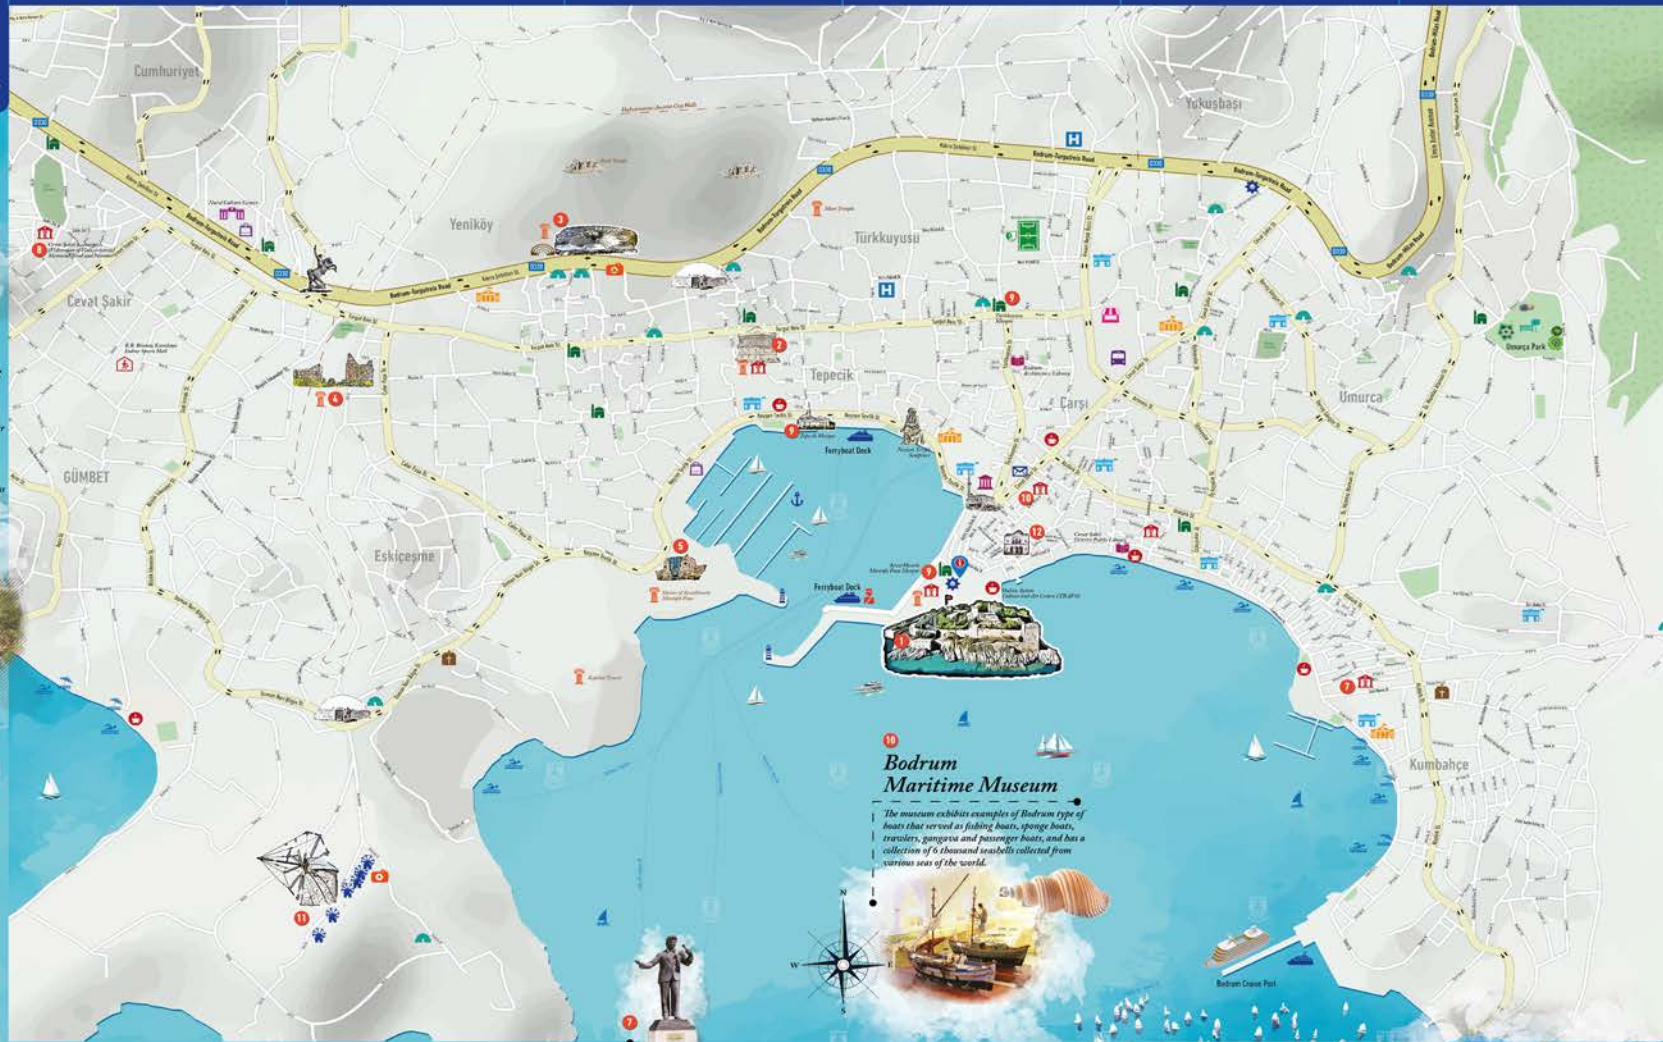

As one of the entrance gates of Halicarnassus, Myndos Gate was built in the 4th century BC.

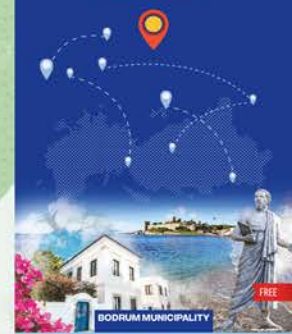

Mausoleum Open Air Museum

Mausoleum was built by Artemisia II, the Queen of Caria, for her husband and brother Mausolus, and considered as one of the seven wonders of the ancient world. Considerable parts of this 36 column monument was brought to England and is currently exhibited in British Museum.

Today in world languages the word "Mausoleum" has still been used to define memorial tombs.

1 Bodrum Castle and Underwater Archaeological Museum

The Castle of Saint Peter was built from 1402 onwards and completed in 1522 by using the stones of Mausoleum, looted by knights. The castle has French, Italian, English, German and Spanish towers. During the construction of the castle, the shipyard issued a "Düğük Eser" and reserved a place for the workers in the harbor. The castle was used as a prison until 1915 during the Ottoman period.

Zeki Müren Art Museum

The house where the famous Turkish artist Zeki Müren had lived, was arranged after his death and turned into a museum. The information and the documents on the life and works of the artist, as well as the photographs, stage clothes and special items are exhibited in this house, which was converted into a museum in 2000.

The museum, where the world's oldest shipwreck (Uluburun Shipwreck) is exhibited, contains Eastern Mediterranean Amphoras and has the world's largest Islamic Glass Collection. The museum, which has 14 exhibition halls, received the European Special Prize Award.

Bodrum Sandals

The most beautiful sandals of the world have been produced in Bodrum since 1966.

Historical Mosques

The center of worship for 300 years
Kılıçkalanı Mustafa Paşa Mosque (1724),
Tipeçik Mosque (1740-1741),
Türkbayram Mosque (1767-1768).

Bodrum Architecture

The two-story Bodrum houses, which attract attention with their white paint, bougainvillea surroundings, blue painted doors and windows, are unique examples of traditional stone house architecture.

These centuries-old houses with the small of frame, which defy years, are classified into three types: house with tower, house with mezzanine and lake-type houses.

Ottoman Shipyard

Built in 1775, the Ottoman Shipyard is located on the northwest side of Bodrum Marina. The recently restored shipyard and its tower are among the most noteworthy historical places of Bodrum.

Churches, Chapels

Halicarnassus is the principal center of the Christian period with six chapels and four churches scattered all over the peninsula, such as İsmail Çelebi Church, which is situated in the Terrace Saint of Fisherman and Kılıçkalanı Chapel.

TASTE BODRUM

Bodrum cuisine is healthy and non-fattening, as long as you don't overindulge in good Turkish bread, pastries, or rich sweet desserts!

Bodrum cuisine is well known for its traditional Aegean and Mediterranean flavours. Vegetable dishes prepared with wild plants such as:

Chicory, radish leaves, Bull mallow, Bodrum's special pastry baked with cheese (su böreği), Stuffed pumpkin flower (kabak çiçeği dolması), Smoked aubergine mixed with yoghurt (köpoğlu mezesi), Gypsy salad (çingene salatası), Purslane salad with yoghurt, Bitter orange marmalade, Pickled cucumbers are just a few examples.

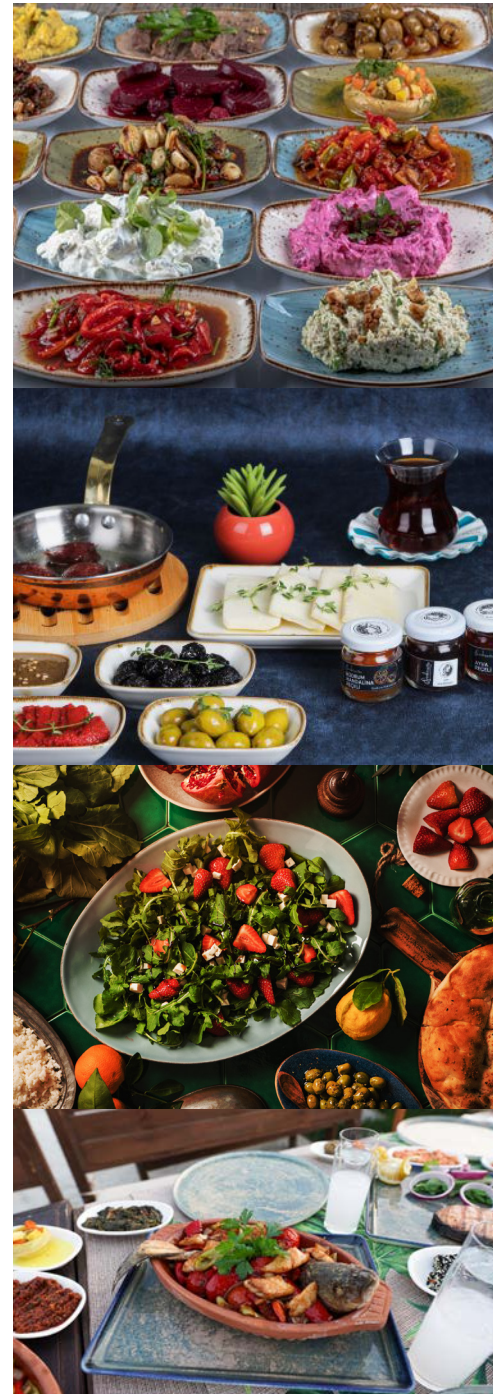

Dishes (meze) cooked or prepared with olive oil are served cold, and even though they are only supposed to be appetizers but you can easily make them your whole meal!

You'll find various restaurants to choose from on the Bodrum peninsula that offer all kinds of cuisine. A romantic and peaceful meal in Bodrum can be enjoyed at the numerous Bodrum restaurants whilst watching the sunset and enjoying the splendid setting.

Rows and rows of cafés and restaurants at the Bodrum harbour, marina area, and on the shorelines of the many famous resorts around Bodrum offer great dining opportunities for visitors.

A holiday in Bodrum isn't complete without having a meal of fresh fish, grilled or fried accompanied by a glass of RAKI.

Raki is a local alcoholic spirit that is popular as an apéritif. It is often flavoured with anise and is often served with seafood or meze. Naturally clear it turns a milky white when mixed with water. It is similar to several other alcoholic beverages from around the Mediterranean and the Middle East, e.g. pastis, ouzo, and arak.

You have some great opportunities to try dishes and drinks you've never tasted before. Alongside fish, another Bodrum speciality is a dish of steak or chicken served with potato, garlic, and a special yoghurt sauce.

Famous Dishes of the Bodrum Peninsula

Here are some popular dishes specific to the Bodrum peninsula; traditional dishes include:

- Keşkek (a traditional dish made with lamb or chicken meat combined with wheat or barley stew)
- Okra with olive oil,
- Radish herb salad,
- Mustard herb salad,
- Ot kavurması (roasted spicy herb),
- Seafood mezese,
- Köpoğlu mezesi (smoked aubergine mixed with yoghurt),
- Stuffed zucchini flowers,
- Octopus stew with onions,
- Çökertme kebab (marinated strips of meat served with fried potatoes, garlic yoghurt, tomato sauce, fried tomatoes and green peppers),
- Bodrum style boiled pastry,
- Bergamot jelly,
- Sage oil and Lokma dessert are all worth a try.

IMPORTANT NOTES

BODRUM xperience Paradise on Earth

Relax at the Blue Flag beaches

Although the area is best experienced outside the main tourist season, splashing around in typical tourist fashion is still one of the best things to do in Bodrum. Located at the junction of the two best seas in the world, the Aegean and the Mediterranean, Bodrum is home to 67 blue-flag beaches. A blue flag is a stamp of approval given to the cleanest waters, making Bodrum one of Türkiye's most prominent beach holiday destinations.

Hide from Pirates in Karakaya Village (Gümüşlük)

If Karakaya is a little on the quiet side, it was only traditionally to escape the attention of marauding pirates! The village lies on the other side of Mount Peksimet near Gümüşlük. It was built by locals in the 16th century, chosen for its ideal, hidden location around half a kilometre from the coast on a hill with a commanding view of the bay. Choosing a secluded location was only half the story for locals trying not to be noticed by avaricious pirates. The locals plastered their hovels in mud and straw camouflage. Although the village was abandoned and left in a state of despair around thirty years ago, life has returned to it due to investment and restoration projects. Around half of the 60-odd homes that make up the village are now once again occupied.

Scuba Dive to the Wreckage of a Sunken Plane

There are just over 20 diving sites along the Bodrum coast. These underwater landscapes cover reefs, caves, and three purposely sunken wrecks! Bodrum has some unique bays around the Peninsula. The seas swiftly change from shallow to astonishingly deep, with a constant supply of fish, octopus, seaweed and seagrasses, and sea sponges. On the reef of Bodrum, you can find underwater caves, sunken ships, and a plane wreck. Advanced divers can weave their way in and out of Red Lionfish, Barracudas, and Groupers as they tackle the Big and Small Reefs.

4 Take an All-Day Boat Tour

A daily boat trip from Bodrum is a must-do experience to see the coast from a different perspective. Spend an incredible 8-hour day on the Aegean Sea swimming in the crystal-clear waters, sunbathing on the boat, visiting spectacular bays, and lovely beaches. This fascinating trip might be one of the most memorable parts of your holiday in Bodrum. A delicious lunch is served on board. At the end of this blue cruise, the boat sails back to the harbour in Bodrum.

5 Have a Sundowner Cocktail before a great night out in the Bodrum Streets Clubs

Before you hit the clubs, take your pick of a vast range of bars that sell every type of cocktail and beer under the Turkish sun. Nightclubs in Bodrum offers exceptional nightlife attractions with foam, lighting, loud music, and dance shows, and many people don't leave until the sun rises over the fuzzy horizon.

6 Visit Bodrum Museum of Underwater Archaeology

The Bodrum Museum of Underwater Archaeology is located inside the Bodrum Castle (Castle St. Peter). The Knights of St. John built the original castle between 1402 and 1409. Today the rooms of the castle serve as a museum since being established in 1964. The museum exhibits a collection of fascinating relics from the lives of ancient, shipwrecked mariners, with glassware, copper-ware and gold items from the ship on display. The Bodrum Museum of Underwater Archaeology is also home to the one of world's oldest known shipwrecks.

7 Try Water Sports Water Activities in Bodrum

Bodrum is situated in a unique natural setting with spectacular and beautiful beaches along an expansive coastline. Immersing yourself in the sounds and sights of the Bodrum waters will be an unforgettable experience. Water sports in Bodrum are within everyone's reach, regardless of skill, age, or season. Water sports lovers will find and try various excursions, windsurfing, surfing, fishing, banana boat rides, snorkelling, scuba diving, jet-skiing and water-skiing.

8 Go Shopping in Bodrum Old Town

In Bodrum Old Town, you'll find countless different souvenirs. Items range from the artistic to the functional, and everything in between. Stands display vibrant wares that will, for years to come, remind you of the sunny coast of Bodrum. One way to get a unique experience is to haggle and negotiate whenever buying. It's part of the culture here, and you may find that the social ritual adds a bit of regional flavour. Be sure to shop around and find the best prices, too.

9 See the Bodrum Windmills

A refreshing hike up to the Bodrum windmills lets you stretch your legs and discover one of the gorgeous old sites on the Turkish Peninsula. Quite remote from other attractions in and around Bodrum, these windmills stand in blissful silence above the harbour. The derelict structures humble you with a heavy, nostalgic atmosphere, allowing for a meditative break away from the city lifestyle. Though you might spend more time at the beach or the bar, you might remember best the quiet hour you spent at the Bodrum windmills. The views over the sea and the harbour are not to be missed, either.

10 Make a Road Trip Of The Bodrum Peninsula

Along with the town centre, the Bodrum peninsula consists of many more small resorts for exciting exploration. Areas like Turgutreis and Yalıkavak are renowned for their vibrant sunsets. Further down the road, Gümbet attracts water sports fans. Gökçebel is still traditional, while Torba is an emerging force in the tourism sector of Türkiye.

The Perfect 48 Hours In Bodrum

Start your Day with a typical Turkish Breakfast

Turkish breakfast is a great way to start your day. Çay (Turkish Tea served in tulip shaped glasses) is accompanied by local cheeses, jams, honey, tomatoes and olives with local breads. Sometimes there will be eggs, cold meats, savoury pastries and seasonal fruit too.

There's plenty of variety, so the picky eaters among us can choose what they like and what they don't. It's organic-friendly and vegetarian-friendly.

Take a Boat Tour to Visit the Popular or Secluded Bays of Bodrum

Bodrum is located on a peninsula and has many small peninsulas which create both popular and secluded bays. It would take an age to visit every nook and cranny by car. The best option to visit all the bays of Bodrum is to take a boat. You can rent a small boat for you and your friends or family. Alternatively, you can join a public boat tour. The tours start before midday and end before the evening.

Enjoy the Long Balmy Nights of Bodrum

Nightlife in Bodrum is exceptional, and you can enjoy the lively nights and nightlife activities of Bodrum in its numerous bars, clubs, nightclubs, and shows. The Bodrum Bar Street, Bodrum Marina Yacht Club, and Bodrum Tekilacılar Street located at the back of the Bodrum Castle are the main nightlife and entertainment zones in Bodrum.

Start your Second Day by Hiking

Bodrum offers a great balance of natural beauty and historical heritage and often you are able to walk through both at the same time! Bodrum enjoys ten months a year of warm sunshine. It also boasts a wealth of different scenery that includes picturesque beaches, wild rocky shores dotted with flowers, and untouched paths. So before settling down on the golden sands next to the turquoise sea why not stretch your legs a bit.

Relax and enjoy the Turquoise Sea and Golden Sands

There's nowhere better for real golden sandy beaches and crystal-clear turquoise sea! Bodrum has a lot of blue flag beaches to offer its guests. When you want a break from the many activities and excursions on offer why not just go to one of the beaches, lie down under the sunshine and enjoy the turquoise water and a bit of peace!

Have Dinner at an Elegant Restaurant

You'll find lots of restaurants to choose from on the Bodrum peninsula that offer all kinds of cuisine. A romantic and peaceful meal in Bodrum can be enjoyed at the numerous Bodrum restaurants whilst watching the sunset and enjoying the splendid setting.

TOUCH BODRUM

Immerse yourself in the Turquoise Sea in the Unforgettable Bays of Bodrum

Gümüşlük

Gümüşlük, a unique bay overlooking the Aegean Sea, has recently become one of the most popular destinations in Bodrum. With its natural ambiance, Gümüşlük is the perfect place for swimming, sunbathing, water sports, and fine dining. As you arrive there, this friendly village warmly welcomes you with its farmers' market. You can buy handcrafted ceramics, dried gourd lanterns, unique souvenirs, handcrafted jewelry, and many more mementos. The windmills, old white houses in the old Karakaya village complete the bay's picturesque view. Rabbit Island, one of the most popular spots on the Bodrum Peninsula, stretches out through King Road and Koyunbaba Island with its unique nature and beach.

This small fishing town, Gümüşlük, has a rich and colourful culture and boasts some of the best fish restaurants in the region. Gümüşlük is also renowned for the most beautiful sunsets on the whole Peninsula. You will most certainly have the most amazing sunset experience at Gümüşlük, watching the sun go down, sitting on tables placed in the shallow sea, your feet in the water whilst enjoying the delicious mezes and seafood being served.

Yalıkavak

An 18 km drive from the centre of Bodrum, Yalıkavak lies on the north-western tip of the Bodrum peninsula, a popular destination for blue voyages along the Turkish Riviera. Over the past few years, Yalıkavak has become one of the most luxurious destinations on the Turquoise Coast and a popular destination for ex-pats as well as anyone seeking out the most luxurious marinas in the world. Surrounded by beautiful blue seas, Yalıkavak is the perfect spot to enjoy the sun and sea on uncrowded beaches. Yalıkavak Marina is a beautiful complex welcoming yachts and offering superyacht facilities, gourmet restaurants, bars, cafes, clubs, entertainment venues, and other amenities appealing to yachties, visitors and locals.

Gümbet

Heading west from the city centre of Bodrum, the first village you come across is Gümbet. This small village is surrounded by pine tree clad mountains and a glittering topaz-blue bay offers visitors a serene environment. It is also a perfect holiday destination with various all-inclusive hotels, resorts, holiday-villages, shops, restaurants, and other facilities. The Aquarium Cove, which is famous for its stunning turquoise sea, stretches between Bitez and Gümbet. The Cove is frequently visited by daily excursion boats coming from nearby ports. If you like scuba diving, then Aquarium Cove is the perfect place for you. Aquarium Cove offers a variety of aquatic experiences, especially for divers. Divers get the chance to enjoy the pristine reef paradise, warm water, consistently good visibility, various species of fish, corals, and other sea animals that are abundant underwater. Aquarium Cove is the best diving spot in the Aegean Sea and one of the best scuba diving spots in Türkiye.

Gölköy

Türkbükü, a wide bay along the Bodrum peninsula's northern coast, is undoubtedly one of Bodrum's most popular tourist destinations. Two coastal villages, Gölköy and Türkbükü, came together and formed the wonderful green village that is today called Gölköy. You can see tangerine trees almost everywhere. Türkbükü has a well-protected harbour ringed with high hills containing several luxury hotels and holiday villas. The town is situated in the ancient Greek town, Caryanda whose origins are in the 6th-5th c. BCE. There are numerous bars, restaurants, and clubs lined along the shore, tempting visitors with fine cuisine and exotic flavours..

Torba

Situated to the northeast of Bodrum, Torba Bay is another well-established summer destination close to the town centre. Torba Bay prides itself on its numerous luxury hotels and resorts, offering stunning bays, pine forests, and beautiful beaches. Torba Bay has a long history going back to the Leleg era about 2500 years ago; the remains of an old Lelegian tomb on a hill overlooking the village, as well as the ruins of an old monastery to the eastern end of the bay can be seen.

Gündoğan

Gündoğan Bay is situated on the southern coast of Bodrum Peninsula and located between Gölürbükü and Yalıkavak Bays. This bay is one of the quietest and peaceful places on the Bodrum peninsula, offering an amazing landscape and great views. It has one of the longest beaches in the region. You can enjoy a constant soft breeze in this horseshoe-shaped bay. Gündoğan is a popular water sports destination and houses various amenities for windsurfing, paragliding, snorkelling, jet-skiing, fishing and sailing enthusiasts.

Turgutreis

Named after famous Ottoman Greek Admiral Turgut Reis (1485-1565), also known as Dragut in the West, Turgutreis Bay is the second-largest bay town on the Bodrum peninsula and a major centre for commerce. It is also one of the most popular summer vacation spots with its extensive sandy beaches, water sports facilities, delicious fish restaurants, local bazaars, and a vibrant night life. D-Marin Turgutreis, only 20 km from Bodrum, is an award-winning marina village and heliport, combining the lifestyle benefits of yachting, Blue Flag facilities, premium boutiques, art galleries and restaurants, creating an elegant seaside atmosphere to appeal to select visitors.

Turgutreis is rather highly populated compared to other Bodrum towns since people live here throughout the whole year. As there are various accommodation options, it is a convenient place to settle. However visitors often prefer smaller towns for summer vacations since to the minds of some they have more character.

SMELL BODRUM

You'll find many aromas and perfumes to fill your nostrils in Bodrum! Bodrum has a varied flora and fauna because of its unique geography, geological structure, and diverse climate.

Smell the Olives

Olives mature in early winter (in December) in and around Bodrum. During this period, it's possible to smell the olives while you're walking around the olive groves in the region. Olives are one of the oldest agricultural sources of income in Bodrum. The olives are collected then taken to the local olive press houses to produce the oils.

Smell the Flowers in the Spring Months

During the late winter/early springtime the region becomes more colourful every day. Some plants that bloom in autumn continue to bloom in early winter, and new plants also join them. Among them, crocus pallasii (a kind of crocus-type saffron), adorns the region's high hills with its elegant lilac flowers. Hugging and climbing plants such as silcan (smilax aspera) and ivy (clematis cirrhosa) continue strongly into the spring and add beauty to Bodrum with their flowers.

The time that the different flowers come into bloom can vary according to differentiations in the local climate. Tulips (anemone coronaria, a. pavonina) are usually in flower at start of the spring as winter ends. They decorate the environs with red, purple and blue flowers. These beautiful plants continue to decorate the Peninsula until mid-spring.

HEAR BODRUM

Enjoy the Sounds of Bodrum Nightlife

The nightlife in Bodrum is famous and vibrant. You can enjoy lively nights and nightlife activities of Bodrum in its numerous bars, clubs, nightclubs, and shows.

Great nightlife and entertainment activities in Bodrum take place on the mile long Bodrum Bar Street (Cumhuriyet Street), which is choc-a-bloc with the largest and most extravagant nightclubs Bodrum. The Bodrum Bar Street, Bodrum Marina Yacht Club, and Bodrum Tekilacılar Street, located at the back of the Bodrum Castle, are the main nightlife and entertainment zones in Bodrum. Also, Gümbet, Bitez, Ortakent, Turgutreis, Gümüşlük, Yalıkavak, and Türkbükü resorts offer great entertainment and nightlife activities with their famous restaurants, beach clubs, nightclubs, discos, bars, and pubs.

Don't forget that the sandy beach at Gümbet and Gümbet Bar Street is also waiting to offer you refreshments.

Bodrum Bar Street is at the centre of the exceptional nightlife in Bodrum and has the largest and most extravagant nightclubs in Bodrum. Any night on Bodrum Bar Street is also an excellent opportunity to try out some of the local cultures by ordering a Turkish Rakı drink but be warned (or pleasantly surprised) that this drink is 45% alcohol, so drink responsibly. The entertainment and nightlife in Bodrum Bar Street goes on until the sun comes up!

Bodrum Marina Yacht Club is a famous entertainment and nightlife centre in central Bodrum overlooking the Bodrum port and historical Bodrum Castle.

It provides excellent views of the sea and Bodrum castle. Bodrum Marina Yacht Club is open all year round and is the only establishment that offers live music performances every day. There are three restaurants and four bars at the Bodrum Marina Yacht Club.

Bodrum

50

Shades

Of Blue

By Beatrice Lessi
Travel writer, blogger and Runner.

Amazing Colors

The first impression you get when you arrive in Bodrum is really a “wow” effect. White houses scattered around the village make a beautiful contrast to the incredible palette of blue shades. Blue sky, deep blue waters, turquoise blue waters near the beaches and blue painted tables, windows or signs form a veritable 50 Shades of Blue. Flowers, local shops shining with colors, a brimming marina with mahogany yachts and red flags complete the lively picture of this enchanting place.

Why I Went

When the Turkish Ministry of Culture and Tourism invited me (and a group of other Swiss bloggers) for a three-days October break to the Bodrum peninsula, I immediately accepted. I think this was the fastest answer to a mail I ever wrote: I love traveling to warm destinations, sailing, going to a place full of history, enjoying good food and... taking pictures of course! I knew this place would be the perfect backdrop to gorgeous images.

How Safe Is It?

I had an excellent experience from minute number one onward. Airport security was the way it should be (correct and not annoying), the general atmosphere in Bodrum very relaxed, we all could wear what we liked (and I had a couple of deep plunge dresses), and we never experienced a moment of tension or preoccupation. Of course I can't speak for the whole country (Bodrum is to Turkey what St. Moritz is to Switzerland or Porto Cervo is to Italy), but I can certainly say one thing: the Bodrum peninsula is truly a gem and I can warmly recommend it.

What Is So Special About Bodrum?

It's very pretty: houses trimmed with purple bougainvillea and painted in white (local laws don't allow them too high or in any different color); beautiful mahogany yachts in the vibrant harbors around the peninsula, sandy beaches, boutique hotels, colorful markets with fresh foods and spices, beautiful historical sites, a castle and incredible views make this place real eye candy.

People or Politics?

I come from a family that always lived from tourism (in Italy), so I really feel a connection to the tourism industry. Shop and restaurants owners, small entrepreneurs, people in the yachting or hospitality business in Bodrum are people, not politicians. Their work is top class and service reaches a very high standard everywhere – I would go back anytime and totally support what these people are doing.

In October you get unbelievable value for money. Temperatures are perfect (around 15-18 degrees at night and 20-25 during the day), the place is lively but not crowded, all shops are open, prices are about half of high season, so you can really have top class holidays in a luxury yacht or resort for very reasonable prices. Alternatively, Bodrum has accommodation and services for any budget.

It offers culture and history: two meters under the narrow streets lies 5000 years of history – the Museum of Underwater Archeology collects some beautiful examples. The Roman theatre, a Mausoleum (one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World), Bodrum Castle and the Myndus Gate provide culture and entertainment for any visitor who is interested in understanding the history of the area. It's good for sports, families, the young and the old: Bodrum is diversified and has something for everybody. Night life, water sports, low-budget accommodation, but also design hotels, gourmet restaurants, luxury yachts and Jeep Safari – here anybody can find what they are looking for.

Our Personal Highlights Blue Cruise. They call it a Blue Cruise because of the blue sky, blue sea, and because in the local language being blue means becoming tipsy (try Raki with your meal and you'll see!). We were offered a day on a 4 stars yacht (the rating goes from 2 to 7) and, to give you an idea of prices in low season, it costed 1'000 Euro per day. If you consider that it has room for 6 people who can divide the cost, you'll see how convenient this experience can be especially because the standard of food and service is so high and personalised. Our host, Sükrü Gözütok, who owns one of the biggest and best yachting companies in the area, Bodex, just build a brand new luxury boat, Gul Sultan, featuring an impressive 80 sqm. flybridge with outdoor Jacuzzi as your personal infinity pool, sleek design and top finish from local artisans (remember every boat is different and made to personal specifications). His latest idea? Golf and Cruise: a one week cruise that stops in 3 different golf courses to allow to be active both on land and water.

Food! One of the bloggers in our group, Sylwina, is a food blogger. This was particularly interesting because we started to discuss recipes, compare ingredients, taste and comment the dishes with great attention, and finally take pictures of any type of food (to the annoyance of those who were starving and had to wait for our photo sessions). We tried a great variety of local food and delicacies, with an incredible amount of fresh ingredients and different flavours. On the yacht, the crew baked us a cake while we were swimming, can you imagine the smell when we went back to the boat? We felt treated like Princesses and also ate very healthily.

For a magical dinner, I recommend the village of Gümüslük: a small place featuring a series of restaurants directly on the water, lit by lanterns hanging on trees in the water and with the sound of the waves as the only soundtrack (music is not allowed, so all you can hear is the quiet sea and the clanking of cutlery). The food is lovely in each one of them and service is top level. Don't worry about which one you pick: they are all excellent as they have to fit very precise quality standards.

The People. Perhaps the thing we enjoyed most was how people were flexible and friendly with us. We didn't have any internet? A Wi-Fi router magically appeared. We heard a traditional music, saw a bride and watched her from far? The people at the wedding invited us for dinner and to dance with them. We ended up at the launch of the bride's bouquet (trying to avoid it because nobody in our group wanted to get married!) and obviously felt very flattered for being included in such a personal – yet festive and traditional – ceremony. So thank you to everybody who pampered us, flattered us, entertained us and fed us during this trip: I will be back to Bodrum for sure.

"Small, Cozy, Beach Hotel.

Our hotel is small, modest and peaceful, situated right on the Bitez beach. Only a few steps away from the sea and our comfortable beach facilities. We serve you a Turkish style breakfast. Most of our guests come to relax, spending their days by the pool, beach and the local bars and restaurants. UzHan is suitable for both couples and travelers alone. You will feel safe and at home here with us! There is free WIFI within the hotel area. We are happy to help you arrange transfer from the airport on arrival on request. Unfortunately, our parking place is limited to 3 cars, but there is a private parking place very close to us.

Our friendly team is eager to welcome you here and will work hard to make your holiday relaxing and enjoyable. We, a Swedish/Turkish family, have the pleasure since 1980 to focus on guest satisfaction with the strongest commitment. Together with you, dear guests, we share a relaxing and casual atmosphere in a small, cozy and super-friendly environment.

The UzHan Hotel is a firm favourite with returning guests."

“Bodrum Ortakent Yılmaz Hotel For A Pleasant Holiday.

Everyone has the right to a nice holiday. It is good for most people to escape from the chaos of the city. A beautiful hotel, beach and pool will come to us how good. We are talking about being intertwined with nature, that is, being able to achieve that peaceful environment. Of course, the first condition is to choose the right hotel. The fact that the hotel we choose is convenient and comfortable is among our top priorities, of course, it should be affordable and high quality. Proximity to the sea, children’s pools, good food and most importantly a peaceful place should be. Areas where our children can easily walk around and play, such as surfing and swimming areas. A peaceful and safe environment is prepared for you and your family. There are playgrounds and playgrounds away from the traffic. In addition, the deep sea, children can play comfortably on the sandy beach, many rooms such as TV rooms with cartoons are offered to you. You can also be attentive to your innocent pets, who love you completely unrequited and are always there for you, and realize how loving they are at every moment in your life. Just as we humans are looking for places where we can relax and feel peaceful, animals feel comfortable and safe with us.
